Salazar and the British: an exploration of the relationship between the Portuguese Estado Novo and Britain before, during and after World War 2

with David Johnson

Our website includes many articles about Portuguese history and culture - including articles I have written using Peter's talks as a basis e.g. Colonial Portugal and Withdrawal (First in .. Last Out) which contains information from Peter's talk of 30 June. There is also a continuing series called Journey to Portugal (21 to date) in which I describe our visits to places in Portugal - always with a reference to the views of José Saramago in his Journey to Portugal. We also have book reviews and a Lending Library. We would welcome contributions on the website from our 'members' and if you would like to contribute, please feel free to send me any copy. My next article for Algarve Resident is Portugal's 90 Year Affair with Japan, which will be published on Thursday 6 July.

I thank Christine and Stuart Brown for their continuing work on the website.
